Main Duties
This job is a great learning experience for anyone interested in medicine. It gives you a great variety as you are based on a general medical ward and also have on-call shifts in the acute medical unit (AMU), acute frailty unit (AFU), ED in-reach (working in A&E to clerk medical patients) and ward cover (covering medical wards out of hours). This means you will have great exposure to many of the common medical presentations which is really valuable to becoming a well-rounded medical doctor. You will see acute patients in a ward or admissions unit environment. You will have the opportunity to clerk patients and take part in ward rounds, honing your ability to investigate and manage a patient as you will see patients yourself and they will then have a senior review by a Registrar and/or a Consultant. You will see a wide variety of presentations and adult patients of all ages. You will work in a multi-professional team with a Registrar or Consultant on-site to aid with any issues. This job is based on a General Internal Medicine ward at the Leicester Royal Infirmary. It is a ward with lots of variety in the patients seen and reasonably high turnover of patients.

Educational Activities:
You will have an induction at the start of the rotation and will receive Self-development time as part of your timetable to meet your educational and portfolio needs. You will have the opportunity to discuss cases with the Consultant or Registrar on call to meet your case-based discussion and mini-CEX requirements of your portfolio. You will be able to attend the weekly General Internal Medicine teaching sessions, to aid with learning. Example topics include case presentations of interesting cases, audit teaching and morbidity and mortality meetings.

Grand round takes place each Friday and you will have allocated time to attend core F2 teaching on your timetable.

In addition, you will have multiple opportunities to practice clinical skills which could include ultrasound guided cannulation and ascitic taps.
